

An article in the July 2009 edition of the “The Cross Section” featured the SDI (Subsurface drip irrigation) Field Day at Halfway TX on August 25, 2009. “The Cross Section” is produced by the High Plains Water District. The article also mentions that the field day in Halfway will be preceded by a similar event at the Kansas State University NW Research Extension Center in Colby, KS on August 4, 2009. Both of field days are support in part by the Ogallala Aquifer Program.
